

PLACE AND THE SCENE OF LITERARY PRACTICE

He grinned his beguiling grin and picked up my discard. "Ifi very . . . unusual. Have you lived here long, Mr. Maliory?" .O, what fun we will have when we're prone..Nolan smiled at the sound, then nodded at Mama. "I'm going to turn in now. You take good care of him." .He looked at me with an expression I'd never seen before, and I knew why Lorraine said he had a lost, doomed look. "Well, we can't live forever, can we? Are you ready to go?" .And for six months, nothing really new cropped up among the whirligigs. Song was not surprised.- I.. G. Saltier."How do you intend to find it?" . "Good," said Amos. "Oh, but one more thing. You say it is windy there. I shall need a good supply of rope, then, and perhaps you can spare a man to go with me. A rope is not much good if there is a person only on one end. If I have someone with me, I can hold him if he blows off and he can do the same for me." Amos turned to the sailors. "What about that man there? He has a rope and is well muffled against the wind." .I stare across the stage and she's looking back at me.
